RE: Newborn Hearing Screening; SB 1140

Dear Senator Kouchi:

On behalf of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, I write to express support for SB 1140, which requires diagnostic audiologic evaluation results to be provided to the Department of Health for certain newborns and infants.

The American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) is the national professional, scientific, and credentialing association for 218,000 members and affiliates who are audiologists; speech-language pathologists; speech, language, and hearing scientists; audiology and speech-language pathology support personnel; and students. Over 500 ASHA members reside in Hawaii.¹

ASHA supports SB 1140, which requires audiologists and physicians who perform diagnostic audiologic evaluations of infants to report to the Department of Health, the diagnostic audiologic evaluation results of infants who do not pass the hearing screening test or are diagnosed as deaf or hard of hearing up to the age of three years. Newborn hearing screening is now the standard of care in hospitals nationwide. In 2014, 96.1% of babies born in the United States had their hearing screened before one month of age and 6,163 infants were diagnosed with permanent hearing loss.² According to the Joint Committee on Infant Hearing, there is a growing body of literature indicating that when identification and intervention occur at no later than six months of age for infants who are deaf or hard of hearing, the infants perform as much as 20 to 40 percentile points higher on school-related measures (vocabulary, articulation, intelligibility, social adjustment, and behavior).³

Thank you for helping to ensure proper hearing health care for infants and young children in Hawaii. If you or your staff have any questions, please contact Eileen Crowe, ASHA's director, state association relations, at ecrowe@asha.org.

Sincerely,
